Babineaux Named Daktronics All-American

Magnolia, Ark. --- Jordan Babineaux, a 6-0, 202-pound cornerback/kick returner at Southern Arkansas University, has been selected second team All-America by Daktronics, Inc. A senior from Port Arthur, Tex., Babineaux will play in the Whataburger Cactus Bowl in Kingsville, Tex., Friday night at 7 p.m., which will be broadcast live by Fox Sports Southwest TV (Channel 22 in Magnolia).

Prior to making Daktronics second team All-America, Babineaux was a D2Football.com second-team All-America choice, was Dopke.com Division II National Special Teams Performer of the Year, first team Daktronics All-South Region defensive back, was first team Football Gazette All-South Region defensive back, first team All-Gulf South Conference defensive back, the Football Gazette National Defensive Player of the Week (Sept. 8), the National Special Teams Player of the Week by both D2Football.com and the Football Gazette (Oct. 20), the GSC Defensive Player of the Week (Sept. 8), and the GSC Special Team Player of the Week (Oct. 20).

Other GSC schools represented on the Daktronics All-America team were Delta State, North Alabama, Arkansas-Monticello, Arkansas Tech, and Harding University. Delta placed two, wide receiver Ellis Debro on the first team and defensive tackle Anthony Maddox on the second team, North Alabama quarterback Will Hall was a first team choice, Arkansas-Monticello tight end Devon Stewart was a first team pick, Arkansas Tech defensive lineman Tommy Edwards was a second team selection, and Harding linebacker Tim Polk was chosen second team.