Southern Arkansas Announces Girl's Basketball Camps

Magnolia, Ark. - Southern Arkansas will host its 36th annual girl's basketball camp July 9-13, according to Lady Mulerider Head Coach Sam Biley. The camp will be held in the W.T. Watson Athletic Center.

Girls entering the sixth through 12th grades, and meeting eligibility requirements set by the Arkansas Activities Association, are eligible to participate. Instruction, activities, and supervision will be classified according to age. The camp will provide individual instruction in fundamental phases of basketball, including defense, rebounding, shooting, ball-handling, and passing.

Camp coaches will include Cecily Butler from Genoa Central, Lucy Williams from Crossett, Lynn Benson from El Dorado, Laura Kidd from Spring Hill, Gary Don Smith from Hot Springs Lakeside, and SAU Assistant Coach Tracy Denney. Members of the Lady Mulerider basketball team will also assist with instruction.

The cost of the camp for overnight residential campers is $220 per participant, with an $85 deposit due with the application. The day campers' fee is $165 per participant, with a $75 deposit due with the application. No meals are furnished to day campers.

The fourth annual Lady Muleriders' "Rookie" basketball day camp is scheduled for June 26-28. Girls entering the third through sixth grades will receive instruction in ball-handling, lay-ups, free throws, passing, receiving, and defense. The cost of the camp is $65 per camper with a $25 deposit. Hours of the camp are from 9 a.m. until noon.

For more information, contact Coach Sam Biley at (870) 235-4134, or (870) 234-5591, or Coach Tracy Denney at (870) 235-4197.
